you the world a bit better and a bit more beautiful because you have lived in it. Put God first, others second, and yourselves third and the world will have profited greatly."This was the challenge and advice given 18 seniors of the Upper Southampton high school graduating class by Charles S. Swope, president of West Chester State Teachers' College, at the fifth annual commencement exercises held in the high school auditorium last evening.Continuing with the same thought Mr. Swope said, "It is true that in the field of modern science we are traveling with the speed of an aeroplane, but in the field of the social sciences and human relationships we are traveling with the speed of the horse and buggy.""The challenge today to every boy and girl graduate is to find the way to get along with their fellow members of society in a real manner of friendship and co-operation."Four student speakers in the graduating class dwelt on four different aspects of the theme, "Trends in Modern Science." Marcia Losse, speaking on the subject of botany, said that this subject is becoming one which is more important to hundreds of people every day. She pointed out that the farmer and the florist have benefited greatly by the experimentation carried on in this field of science. Lester Stone, speaking on physics especially emphasized the importance of electricity in guilty before Judge Calvin S. Boyer were entered yesterday in court by William F. Kaercher, 19, of Wyndmoor; Howard Howlands, 24, and John Koval, 18, of Plymouth, Luzerne county, to charges of robbing the National Farm School post office.The post office was robbed three times, the first on Sept. 30, 1935, in which Kaercher and Rowlands participated, when $150 was stolen; on December 29, 1935, when $18 was stolen by Kaercher alone; and May 16, 1936, when over $600 was stolen by Kaerch-er, Rowlands and Koval.Altogether, $411.02 has been received and returned to Farm School, Trooper Harry Christ, of the State Police, testified.Kaercher also pleaded guilty to five offenses of stealing automobiles in New Britain township. The cars were either returned to the place where stolen or left nearby. One of the cars was damaged to the extent of $150.Norman Fanberg, 19, pleaded guilty to two charges of automobile stealing.

Fanberg did none of the stealing but rode around twice with Kaercher.Trooper Christ testified that Rowlands was a former student at Farm School, having been expelled last year about the time the post office was robbed the second time. Kaercher was a student at the school when he was arrested several weeks ago, but he had been under probationary orders.
Koval never attended Farm School but was brought down from Plymouth by Rowlands to act as a "watcher" for the third Farm School post office robbery.

All Saints' Church School, affiliated with All Saints' P. E. Church, Torresdale, is in the process of reorganizawill offer many advantages. During the month of June, Mrs. Higbee is at the school on Tuesday and Friday afternoons from three until five the number of communicants being

IS GIVEN A CERTIFICATE

LANGHORNE, June 19—Presentation of a Gold Sheaf certificate to Edwin E. Ridge in recognition of his 50 years of membership in the Grange proved to be the highlight at a well attended meeting of the Middletown Grange held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. May Newbold.In the presence of about 30 members of the Grange, the certificate was presented to Mr. Ridge by Henry C.
Pickering, master of the Grange, who made a few appropriate remarks. Mr.
Ridge responded to the presentation with a few reminiscences of the early days of the Grange.Mr. Ridge became a member of the Middletown Grange in March, 1886, and during that time served as a master. He at present is chaplain of the local Grange. He is the third member of the Middletown Grange to have been honored in this manner. Two other persons were presented with Gold Sheaf certificates some years ago, but they have died since.In attendance at the meeting was Bennett Coates, master of Fremont Grange, Chester county, who spoke briefly of the soil conservation program in his county and the value of the young people in the Grange. Several members of the local Grange commented briefly upon the soil conservation program in Bucks county.Richard Hopkins read one of Edgar A. Guest's poems and another member gave a reading which explained the meaning of the five-point star found on the Silver Sheaf certificates awarded to persons who had been affiliated with the Grange a quarter of a century.Members of the Grange responded to roll call by answering the question, "Should Farm Women Receive the Entire Proceeds from the Sale of Poultry and Garden Products?" Opinions were very varied on this subject, but the discussions brought out some very interesting points in reference to the manner in which the farmers can handle their finances.In commemoration of Child Week, Mrs. Jesse Webster gave a reading, "The Cross Roads."The meeting of the Grange on Wednesday evening, July 1, will be omitted, but the next will take place in the Friends' school house, here, on Wednesday evening, July 15.Miss Laurine Thornton, New York City, is visiting her mother, Mrs. E.
R. Thornton, Bath street.

Test Your Driving Manners

Do you fail to signal your intention before stopping or turning your vehicle?Many automobile drivers expect the driver back of them to guess what the fellow ahead is going to do. This guess is often wrong and then there is an accident.Bristol police authorities are trying to reduce accidents here.

"Peeping Tom" was committed to the Bucks County jail today for 30 days, after he was caught roof-walking here.
The prisoner gave his name and ad-been roof walking in the block on Lin-was discovered that someone was tiptoeing on the roofs of their houses.

Then another complaint has been that eave boxes have been robbed and so police have been on the look-out for the culprit.Early yesterday Ventino was ar-

County jail by Justice of Peace James

PAST AND FUTURE PLEDGES

By Representative Walter G. Andrews of New York

We have now witnessed over three years of the so-called New Deal, and what are to be our considerations looking to the campaign and the election? At the start, to be sure, some of the early expressions of Mr. Roosevelt and some of the measures sponsored by his leadership gave us hope for the solution of our pressing problems—but this did not last for long.Mr. Roosevelt's personal charm lasted about two years, and even before that the failure of his policies became evident.
At the outset, having no real or sound convictions of his own, Mr. Roosevelt surrounded himself with a group of impractical theorists. It is this group, to a large extent, who have supplied the ideas of the New Deal.It is interesting to note that among the entire group of departmental and bureaucratic advisers of the President it would be most difficult to find one self-made man or anyone who, from experience, knows what it is to meet a Saturday night's pay roll.Looking to the Democratic National Convention and Mr.
Roosevelt's re-nomination, how can his 1936 platform be anything but meaningless?Here is a man who promised to reduce federal expenditures. He has increased them enormously. He has cynically violated most of the other major planks of his 1932 platform.

Wires.Observing Total Eclipse (By International News Service)Radio short wave bands were among the chief benefactors today, as the universe staged one of its rarest and most magnificent phenomena—a total eclipse of the sun that turned morning into midnight when the moon cuts a stygian swath from Greece to Japan.
Twenty-eight Soviet astronomical expeditions used the solar block-out to tell the effects of eclipse, and some expeditions were short waving transmissions, while two Americans and ten other foreign parties snapped pictures and made observations of the last total eclipse for a year.Good conditions prevailed at Ak-Bulak, near the Russo-Siberian border station. Harvard University-Massachusetts Institute of Technology expedition at Kustanal, farther east, and the cameras of Georgetown University-National Geographic Society observers, were trained on the intervening moon.
Beginning in the Mediterranean just after the sun had risen, the moon moved in front of the sun, darkening nearly all of Asia for a period of 2½ minutes.Moving all the way across Asia in 40 minutes, the eclipse was perhaps best observed in the center of its path.Work of Re-Surfacing State condition of the thoroughfare, of its then the entire section from Bristol to Neshaminy Creek is to be given a new surface.The crew of workmen approximates about 25.Residents of this section who used State Road frequently have signed pe-almost given up hope of improvement in the highway. The appearance of the workmen yesterday was heartily

FIVE TEACHERS LEAVE

"No more Latin, no more French, no more sitting on a hard wood bench." School is out for the summer!The Bristol public schools closed today for the summer vacation period.
Pupils from the highest to the lowest grades in the schools dashed out of their class rooms shouting with glee.
Teachers were bidden a fond adieu.Five vacancies are to be filled during the summer months, on the teaching faculty, and there are two or three new positions created. There are about 2100 children enrolled in the Bristol public schools.Lessons are over, "exams" are finished, there aren't any more worries.
Nothing to do now but have fun for nearly three long sunny months.Texts and notebooks are shoved in the back of the closet, and from that dusty corner are pulled out bathing suits and fishing rods. "Let's take a picnic over on the Island. All right, and go swimming, too. What if we do get sunburned, anything is better than studying."Sandals and sneakers take the place of school shoes, and some don't wear anything on their feet. Gingham and overalls instead of clothes to keep clean and nice. Even dirty hands and faces—sometimes. Oh, it's fun in the summer time!We'll spend long, lazy afternoons at the beach, take hikes in the country, and go camping. And don't forget the baseball games and tennis matches.
On rainy afternoons we can curl up with a mystery story, and some fudge to nibble at on the side. Gee, I'm glad vacation is here!

SAFETY CONSCIOUS

"Can't you do something to make the public safety conscious?" asked a Courier reader, the other day.

Just what can be done to make the public safety conscious?

Daily the public press carries stories of "accidents," and The Courier publishes the details of accidents which occur in this vicinity. It would seem that these stories alone should be sufficient to impress upon the minds of all, the vast number of accidents which are happening and of the untold suffering and misery they are causing.

A little girl in Croydon had her foot amputated due to an automobile accident. This story was published in The Courier and no doubt those who read it did so with a gasp of horror and sorrow and remarked "Isn't that a shame!"

A boy in Morrisville lost his leg when he was run over while coasting in his express wagon on a public highway. This story was also carried in The Courier and again the readers gasped and commented upon the horror.

But will the fact that these two accidents have caused readers to sorrow with the victims, cause these readers to drive with more caution, or will it mean that children and adults will exercise the greatest caution about crossing highways or playing in the streets?

Only last evening a boy was seen on Pond street riding with one leg over the side of an express wagon, propelling himself along that portion of the highway commonly referred to as the gutter. It was just dusk and motorists had not yet turned on the lights of their cars. But this boy moved along in the shadows, dodging in and out of the path of vehicles.

What can be done to make the public safety conscious?

Is not the continual publication of accidents and their tragic consequences sufficient?

PRIDE IN OUR WORK

One of the characteristics of a successful community, is the pride which people feel in the goods produced in that community. . . farming region, for instance, always takes pride in the fine cattle or vegetables or other product that it turns out. A good factory town is proud of the fine merchandise produced in its shops. A good retail center is proud of its fine stores.

How shall that pride be developed? Primarily by deserving it. If the farmers generally are keen to get out the best kind of goods in their line, if the business and workpeople in the shops are anxious to produce high standard goods, if the workers in the stores are eager to render the best service, there is a force of home town pride that will make itself felt, and such a community's good reputation will spread.

The death of a man in Chicago is attributed by a coroner's jury to his having been bitten by a woman, though accidentally. Presumably her muzzle fell off.

Biologist Wiggan believes that women have the more retentive memories. Absolutely. How many men do you see bringing breach of promise actions?

No sooner are we done with the problem of pronouncing Ethiopian place names than Japanese are throwing her weight around again, in China.

Figures taken from the books of the Treasury Department itself show that up to May 18th last the federal government under the present Administration has expended the colossal sum of twenty-two and one-half billion dollars. Putting this long figure another way, twenty-two thousand million dollars.

The magnitude of this spending becomes more alarming when you realize that during this period the government has been putting out more than two dollars for each dollar of revenue it has taken in. The Administration right now is in a hot spot. It is unwilling, if not afraid, to cut expenditures at the moment.

It was the President himself who once said "Taxes are paid by the sweat of every man who labors." The people must be assured that government borrowing will stop as soon as possible, thus releasing funds for private enterprise.

Honest relief must be provided for those who require it, but the Republican Party cannot attempt to follow the present Administration's wasteful policy.

The New Deal Administration is about to go into a national election. What is it going to do after election if it be successful in retaining control of the government? If its future is to be judged by its past performances, the spending will continue along with its experiments.

the modern world. This energy, according to the speaker, is the greatest contribution of science to the world which has thus far been made.

Ruth Bennett developed the subject of zoology and pointed out that scientific research is absolutely essential to the modern man. She illustrated her talk by pointing out that malaria and hundreds of other disease germs have been discovered and cures made which is only possible by a scientific research into the problem. Sara Kratz showed the significance of synthetic products in her talk on chemistry. She declared that the manufacture of synthetic products is a new and increasingly important development in the field of chemistry.

Two prizes given annually by the school board to the boy and girl having the highest averages for the entire four-year periods were awarded to Ruth E. Bennett and John Gillespie. These two seniors likewise won citizenship awards which are given annually under the sponsorship of the Women's Club of Southampton. The award for outstanding work in the social studies was given to Charlotte M. Rosenberger. Lester G. Stone was the boy recipient of a like award. Other awards included: Prize for outstanding work in English, to Sara Kratz; mathematics award, Mary C. Hogeland; typing prize, Ruth Bennett, making her a triple honor winner. The Chamber of Commerce awards to the Junior girl and boy having the highest averages for three years were given to Dorothy Noe and William Barcalow.

The roll includes the following graduates: Academic—Grace V. Cornwell, John I. Gillespie, Mary C. Hogeland, Sara V. Kratz, Marcia D. Losse, Charlotte M. Rosenberger, Earl H. Saurman, Lester G. Stone; commercial, Ruth E. Bennett; general, Addie E. Fesmire, Percy E. Leedom, Jr., William H. Robinson, Howard J. Ryan, Grace A. Schumpert, Rosemarie Seitter, Evelyn M. Sinkler, Louis P. Spinelli, William L. Yerkes.

The graduates were seated on the auditorium stage which was attractively decorated with bouquets of red roses, the class flower. The auditorium, filled to capacity, was draped in maroon and white, the class colors.

Following the main address of the evening the class presentation to the high school was made by William Robinson, class president. Awarding of prizes and representation of diplomas was made by F. Eugene Klinger, supervising principal of the high school.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the school orchestra and chorus, under direction of Miss Elizabeth F. Stewart. The Rev. William Heist led the invocation, and the Rev. Harold S. Myatt pronounced the benediction.

team members were in the form of track shoes, and for the basketball team, in the shape of basketballs. Those fortunate to be affiliated with both teams received two menu cards as mementoes of the occasion.

The informal get-together will long be remembered by the girls and their guests. Miss Margaret Pope, coach of the girls, extended the welcome. Other participants in the program were: Miss Charlotte Rathke, who invoked the blessing; Miss Janice Jeffries, song leader; and Miss Eleanor Petrick, head cheer leader, who was aided by seven other cheer leaders who are affiliated with the teams. Thus eight of the nine girl cheer leaders in the high school were privileged by virtue of their athletic activities, to attend the function.

Gifts presented during the evening included: a silver basketball and chain to Irene Ranck, senior manager of the basketball team; silver track shoe and chain to Gertrude Arcese, senior manager of the track team; special award to Eleanor Petrick, who gained renown in field work by outdistancing the national and world mark for the standing broad jump, this gift of money being presented by Mrs. Alfred McLaughlin, president, on behalf of the Mothers Association.

To Miss Pope the managers of the track and basketball teams presented a white pigskin bag, in appreciation of her services and encouragement, presentation being by Miss Irene Ranck. The Mothers' Association also bestowed a gift upon Miss Pope.

Exonerate Driver Of Truck In Fatal Accident

11, 1935, as the last state inspection date.

Raymond W. Wright, garage owner, who towed the truck away after the accident, told the jury that the steering knuckle was broken and that the brakes held on only five wheels and were unequal. He said that the nut on the main steering knuckle was gone and evidently had been off for some time.

Patrolman Ross Phillips told of being notified of the accident and of his investigation, as did John Sackville, who went to the scene with Phillips. They described the position of the body in relation to the truck and said that the truck was off the highway on the left hand side.

Deputy Coroner Dr. James P. Lawler described his official investigation. Joseph Mari, 691 Garden street, said he was driving up the highway back of the truck and that he saw it swing across the highway.

Fred Randall, who resides near where the accident occurred, described the position of the truck when he saw it. Louis Frank, owner of the truck, and who was accompanying the driver at the time of the accident, told the jury that his truck was in good condition and that it was always inspected before and after a trip.

PIEO, PRIDE OF BRISTOL HIGH SCHOOL, PLACES 2ND IN NATIONAL ROPE CLIMB

Roman Piao lost the national title for the 25-foot rope-climb in New York City, last evening, by one-tenth of a second; and in the competition for the ring events was well up in the list of approximately 60 competitors.

Piao, pride of Bristol in the climbing event, and who last year out-climbed the national title holder, lost last evening to Huston, of Princeton, by the slight margin of one-tenth second.

After a valiant attempt to cut his first time down, Piao, the local manilla climber, was able to cut one-tenth from his own time, but was not able to out-distance the long strides of Huston, who climbed the 25-foot rope in the fine time of 6.1 seconds. Piao's best time was made in his second attempt, 6.2 seconds. The next best time was set up by Decamp, of the United States Naval Academy, who as third was a full second behind Piao, his time being 7.2.

A large crowd witnessed the all-around Olympic competition, which had been advanced to last evening midwest title holder and Doc Mackenzie, current eastern "champ," are included. Tom Hinnerst, leader in the east, and Rose, southeastern fore-runner, likewise will seek victory.

Other entries include Vern Orenduff, Bob Sall and Ken Fowler of Paterson, N. J.; Floyd Roberts, Chet Gardner and Jimmy Miller of California; Sam Greco, Scranton; Jack Moon, Garfield, N. J.; Chuck Tabor, Orange, N. J.; Len Perry, Madison, N. J.; Ed Murphy, North Bergen, N. J.; Dick Lynch, Jersey City; Joe Nordner of Philadelphia; Walt Brown, Massapequa, N. EXCELSIOR CLUB KEEPS IN FIRST-HALF RACE

The Excelsior Colored Club remained in the race for the first half championship when Tommy Gibson and Johnny Bragg corroborated the hill duties to blank the Odd Fellows, 4-0, on Landreth's field.

The Oddies found the combined pitching too much and could collect but two hits. The winners had five off the arm of Harry Minster. Bill Derry played a fine game at third base for the colored team.

It was the fourth straight win for the Excelsior club and their seventh of the first half. They have lost four times.

ST. ANN'S KEEPS HOLD ON THIRD LEAGUE PLACE

BRISTOL TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Schedule for Tonight—EDGELY and ST. ANN'S (Leedom's) EXCELSIOR and JEFFERSON (Landreth)

An old-fashioned pitcher's battle between "Spike" Scordia and "Reds" McCurry was decided in favor of the former last night on Leedom's field, as the St. Ann's A. A. team maintained its hold on third place, noosing out the Tullytown A. A. team, 2-1.

Fanning nine batters, Scordia held the firemen to two lone bingles. These were bunched in the fifth to score Tullytown's single marker. Scordia was a trifle wild and issued six passes.

McCully, a new southpaw twirler for Tullytown, had a fine change of pace. He was invincible with the exception of the third frame when the winners connected for their pair of tallies. In this canto, after an error by Magro, both Scordia and Sagolla socked singles to decide the issue.

MANAGER LANDRETH BOOKS SEVERAL GAMES

Manager Landreth has scheduled the following games for Landreth Baseball Park:

Tomorrow: Tacony A. A., of the Quaker City League.

OPPORTUNITY TO SEE FINEST RACING CARD

LANGHORNE, June 19—Auto race enthusiasts of the eastern sector will have an opportunity Sunday to witness the finest field of drivers and the longest distance program which has ever been dished up at the circular hot-spot between Trenton and Philadelphia.

Hankinson Speedways in offering a race program postponed from last Sunday will have a half-hundred neck-risking daredevils on hand, including the cream of California, the mighty meteors of the midwest, Dixie's most daring drivers and the pick of eastern stars.

Topped by seven out of the ten money winners from Indianapolis including Lou Meyer, three-time winner, the entry field has also all current sectional AAA champions and the leaders in the 1936 championship ratings and Bill Cummings, 1934 Indianapolis winner.

Meyer, first; Ted Horn, second; Doc Mackenzie, third; Mauri Rose, fourth; Wilbur Shaw, seventh; Zeke Meyer, ninth, and George Connor, tenth, at the "500" will be on hand. Rex Mays, Pacific coast champion; Babe Stapp,

MAGLIONE TO MEET A STIFF COMPETITOR

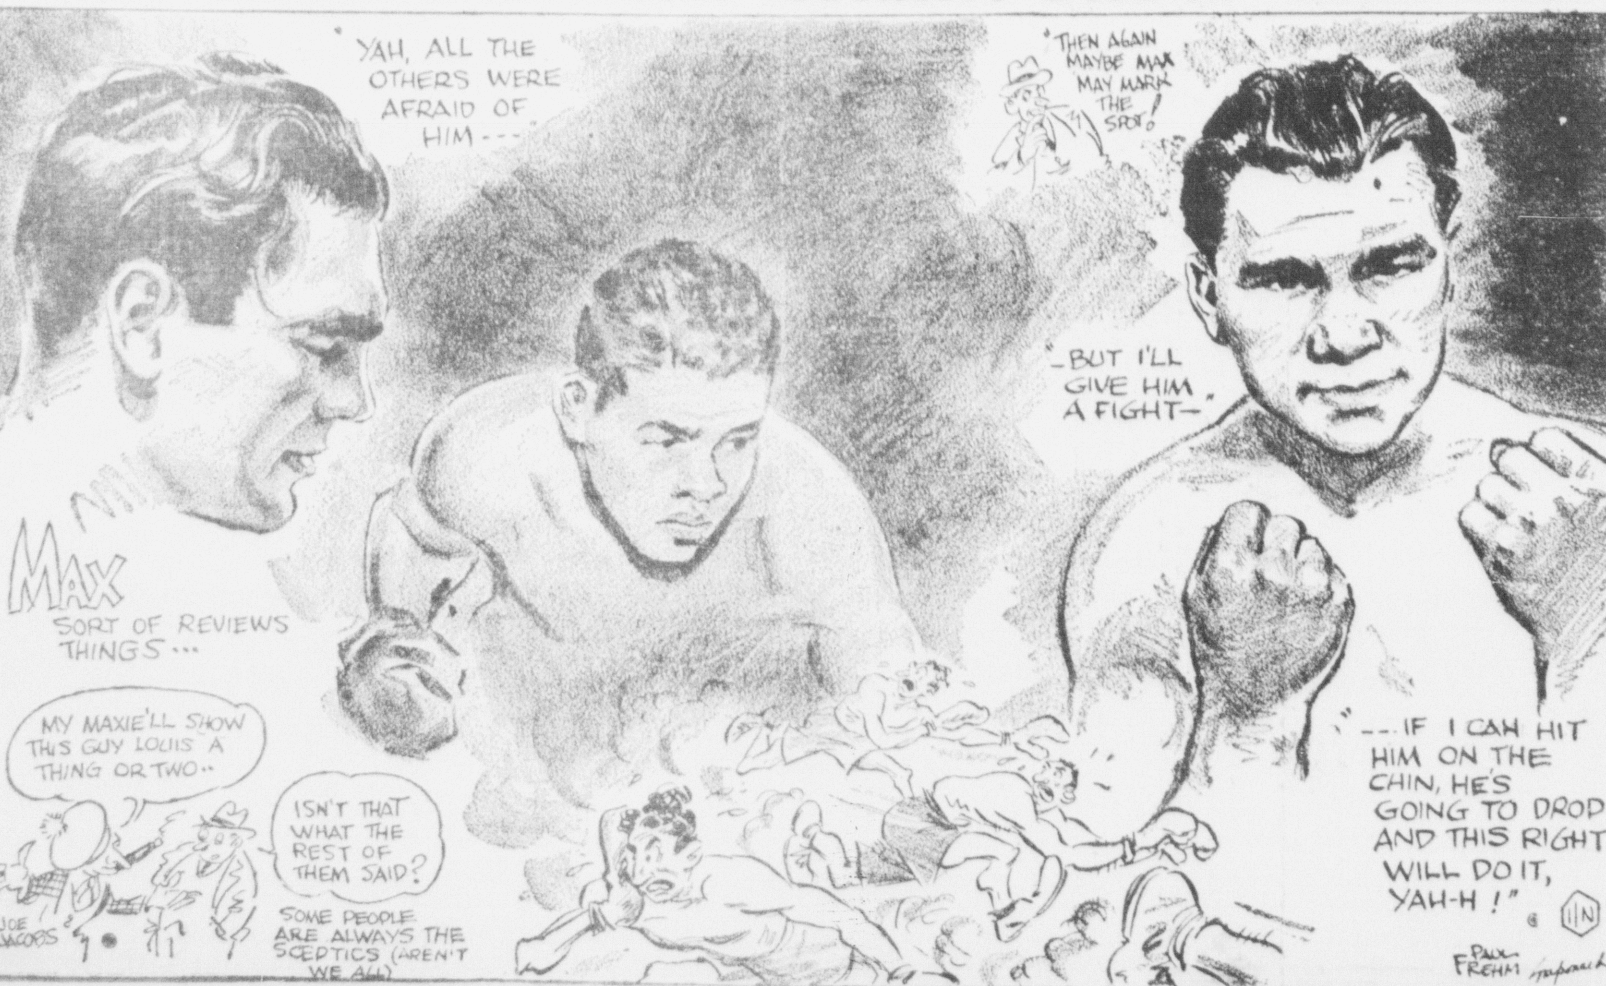

Tony Maglione's winning streak of seven straight will be threatened Monday night as the St. Ann's Athletic Association holds another of its bi-monthly boxing shows in its arena, Wood and Franklin street. Maglione meets a hard puncher in Danny Murray.

Murray has a record of four straight triumphs and feels certain that he can bring a halt to the winning streak of the Purple and Gold mittman. Maglione has been beaten but once since he started amateur fighting and that was in his opening number. Since then eight opponents have fallen by the way-side.

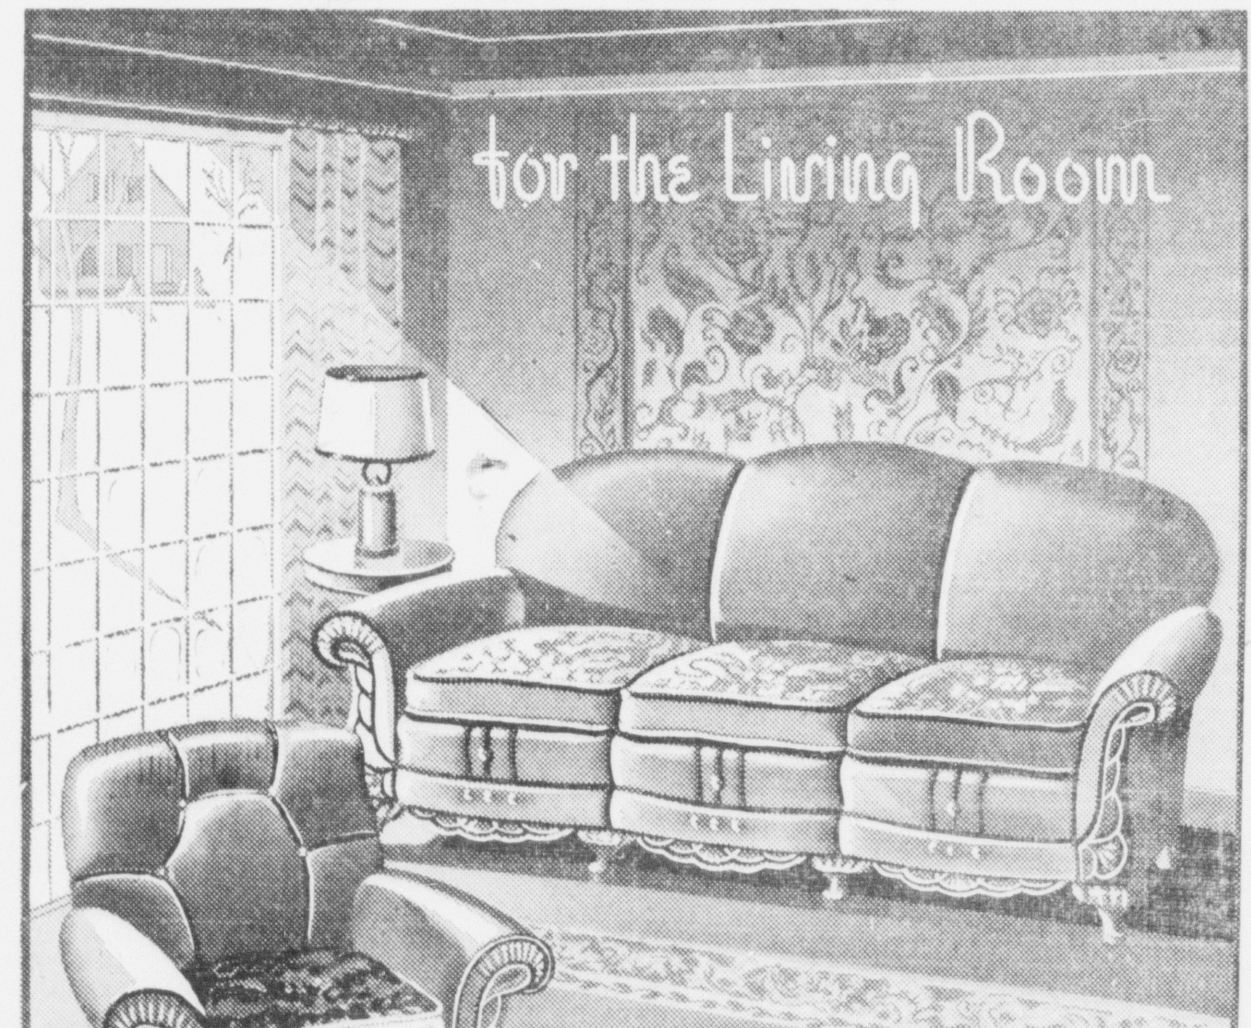

Johnny Cappello, St. Ann's glover, who has that wildcat style of fighting, will have as his foe, Jimmy Toorie. Arena. Cappello is anxious to show the local fans that he is in earnest with his amateur boxing, despite the fact that he was the victim of a technical knockout the last show.

With the above bouts okayed by the A. A. U., it makes a total of four bouts that the Bristol fans are certain to see. Sylvester Purnell
